

Facebook

(Again) this year we're supporting Team Rynkeby as they cycle thousands of kilometres for a good cause - to raise money for children with critical illness!

Both small and large donations make a huge difference, and we're proud to contribute to vital research and provide families with much-needed support or rest through family weekends.

Want to get involved?

Send a donation via [payment method] - every penny counts!

Let's stand together to give children a better future.

Instagram

We're super proud to support @teamrynkeby who are fighting for children with critical illnesses by cycling all the way to Paris. Along with thousands of others, we support the work of the charity cycling team. The money we raise will go towards vital research and support family weekends where children and their families can get a much-needed break during a difficult time. Want to help us help them? Send your support via [payment method], no donation is too small. Together we make a difference!

LinkedIn

At [Company name], we are proud to support Team Rynkeby, which again this year focuses on helping children with critical illnesses.

By raising funds for organisations that help children with life-threatening illnesses, we contribute to vital research that can give many families hope for a better future, as well as family weekends that give children and their families a much-needed break.

As a company, we believe in taking social responsibility and we would like to invite our network to support this important cause. Every donation, big or small, makes a difference.

Use [payment method] and let's stand together to make a difference.

A big thank you to everyone who has already supported!